GAME PREVIEW

RAMS VS. RAVENS

WEEK 6 | SUNDAY, OCT. 12, 2025

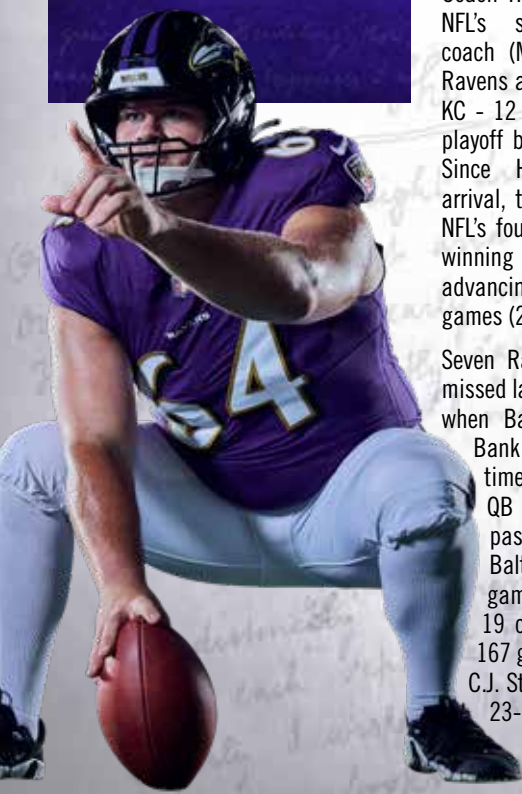

WR Zay Flowers

QUOTH THE RAVEN

"We have to find a way to keep ourselves in football games and win football games. Injuries are part of the game. Whoever is out there, we have to play at a high level and [then] a higher level. We have to stick together. Obviously, 1-4 is not where we want to be, but we have a lot of football left ahead, and we have to stay together and [keep] this locker room together moving forward."

—C Tyler Linderbaum
on the adversity facing the Ravens

The Baltimore Ravens (1-4) aim to snap a three-game skid when they host the Los Angeles Rams (3-2) today at M&T Bank Stadium. Depleted by injuries to standout players over the past several weeks, the Ravens will once again face another team that won a 2024 division title (their fifth such opponent in the season's first six games: W1 at Buffalo, W3 vs. Det., W4 at KC and W5 vs. Houston).

The Ravens are 6-1 all time against the Rams, including a 4-1 mark in Baltimore. These teams last met in December 2023, when the Ravens won a thrilling overtime contest via a walk-off 76-yard PR-TD by WR Tylan Wallace. Under head coach John Harbaugh, the Ravens are 4-1 against the Rams (2-1 in Baltimore).

Coach Harbaugh (18th season) is the NFL's second-longest-tenured head coach (Mike Tomlin - 19), while his Ravens are one of four teams (GB - 13, KC - 12 and NE -12) with at least 12 playoff berths in the past 17 seasons. Since Harbaugh's 2008 Baltimore arrival, the Ravens have produced the NFL's fourth-most total victories (186), winning Super Bowl XLVII in 2012 and advancing to four AFC Championship games (2008, 2011, 2012 & 2023).

Seven Ravens (including six All-Pros) missed last Sunday's game vs. Houston, when Baltimore fell, 44-10, at M&T Bank Stadium. In place of two-time NFL MVP QB Lamar Jackson, QB Cooper Rush was 14-of-20 passing for 179 yards and 3 INTs. Baltimore struggled to get its run game rolling (44 yards & 1 TD on 19 carries), while Houston gained 167 ground yards to complement QB C.J. Stroud's 244 yards and 4 TDs on 23-of-27 passing.

NUMBERS TO NOTE

15 Total tackles for rookie LB Teddy Buchanan in last Sunday's game vs. Houston. His 15 stops are the most by a Ravens rookie in a single game and tie several defenders overall for the fourth-most in an NFL game this season.

16 Offensive TDs scored by the Ravens this season, which stand as the NFL's fifth most. Baltimore's 6.24 overall yards per play average is No. 4 in the league, while its 5.5 rush ypp is No. 5.

98 Receiving yards needed by TE Mark Andrews (5,680) to pass WR Derrick Mason (5,777) as the Ravens' career leader in that category. Andrews already owns the franchise's all-time mark for TDs scored (53, which includes 2 this season).

186 Total career wins for John Harbaugh, 12th most all time.

375 Consecutive games the Ravens have scored, marking the NFL's longest active streak and tying (Indy, 1994-2017) for the third-longest streak since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger.

The Ravens will have their bye in Week 7. Returning home to play Chicago in Week 8, Baltimore then hits the road for three-straight road games: at Dolphins (Thurs.), at Vikings and at Browns.

ON THE PLAYERS AND COACHES BEING ACCOUNTABLE:

"This is a very accountable team. I know I've said it before, but this is a very serious-minded, determined team. They take accountability, they take it hard, and they don't make excuses. They don't point fingers. They're not going to be [saying], 'To heck with this. It doesn't matter.' It matters, and I know how much they care because I see how hard they play. I also see how hard they work during the week. It's not what you say; it's what you do. They're working hard, and they take responsibility for their mistakes, just like the coaches do. The coaches are the first ones to say, 'I have to do better. I have to find a way.' That's what I like about our team. That's why I think that we have what it takes to pull ourselves through all of this."

KYLE HAMILTON: THE EVOLUTION

By Holli Burnett

2025 has already proven to be a special year for Kyle Hamilton. From getting engaged to his long-time girlfriend in France this summer, to signing a lucrative contract extension at the end of training camp, the Ravens' starting safety has experienced change in many aspects of life.

Transitions can be exciting, but they can also be overwhelming. Growing up comes with its own challenges, but the fourth-year safety entered the season as grounded as ever in who he is and what he wants.

If you had asked anyone who knew Kyle Hamilton growing up what he would become, you would have likely gotten the answer: "Whatever he wants to be." For most, the sentiment is typically more cliché than it is truthful. But for Derrek and Jackie Hamilton, "ambitious" has always been a word used to describe their son.

Hamilton, 24, is known for his high IQ, his versatility and his maturity both on and off the field. Of course, those traits have been pivotal in getting him to where he is today. Furthermore, his success can be attributed to an unwavering determination and belief in himself.

Starting at age 3, Hamilton knew he wanted to play football. While he'd have to wait until he was 6 to put the pads on, his eagerness to excel at the sport was immediately evident.

Now a two-time All-Pro, Hamilton is one of the NFL's most highly-regarded safeties. The former first-round pick has also quickly become a centerpiece of and leader for the Ravens' defense.

While the four-year contract extension came with a healthy raise, Hamilton remains focused on being the person he's always been.

"My mom always told me, 'Money just makes you more of who you already are.' So, I think it's a blessing, and I'm excited to help my family, help others with it as well," Hamilton shared following the announcement. "But I don't think it really changes my outlook or my perception of who I am as a person. I pride myself on that. No matter what you're talking about, whether it's money or experiences or accolades, I try to just stay the same Kyle."

It's this mentality that has allowed Hamilton to become not only an impact player league-wide, but also a revered leader in Baltimore as a whole.

Even while facing challenges as a defensive unit, the Ravens "Swiss Army Knife" has showcased his ability to remain calm under pressure and uplift his teammates when adversity strikes.

"[The message to the team is] just get back to what we know. We know we have to prove ourselves every week in this league," Hamilton said. "We have another week this week and a big game, and it's a big opportunity for us. The sky is not falling, so we'll be alright. I think [our mentality is that] we just need to attack this game [that's ahead of us]."

"Those guys in the locker room look to him for answers. He's a really smart player," shared defensive coordinator Zach Orr when asked about Hamilton's leadership.

Though typically a lead-by-example kind of player, the important responsibility that comes with being a strong voice for the team is one that Hamilton has proudly welcomed. As he continues to cement himself in the locker room, Ravens faithful should feel confident and proud of the new leader emerging in Charm City.

DT JOHN JENKINS EVERMORE

John Jenkins, a veteran nose tackle hailing from Connecticut, joined the Ravens defensive line in 2025 to wreak havoc on opposing offenses. The Georgia alum entered his 13th season in the NFL, playing in 155 games with 331 tackles (156 solo), including 4.5 sacks, 15 QBHs and 16 TFL. Get to know more about him below:

If you didn't play football, what do you think you would be doing?

I think I would be a racecar driver.

Who is your role model?
What motivates you?

I have quite a few role models and people who I look up to. They all motivate me for different reasons.

What is your favorite thing about Baltimore?

I haven't really gotten a chance to experience Baltimore like that, but I would say the team. Like I said, I haven't really gotten an opportunity to see the beauty of Baltimore just yet, but I plan to soon.

What advice would you give rookie John Jenkins?

I would have said to never take advice from people who have never been where you are trying to go.

What is something on your bucket list (non-football related)?

Traveling. I just want to travel.

Who are some of your favorite musical artists?

JAY-Z, of course. Another one of my favorite artists is Slick Rick. I also like Mavado.

What is a fact about you that I would find difficult to believe?

A lot of people find it difficult to believe that I cycle.

If you were stuck on a deserted island with one teammate, who would it be & why?

That's a tough one. I would have to pick between Broderick Washington Jr., Kyle Van Noy or Brent Urban.

Are there any non-profit or charitable causes you are passionate about supporting?

In the area, I have heard about Living Classrooms and Center for Urban Families. I am very passionate about kids. I really like going about it with fathers who are trying to be a part of their kids' lives and things of that nature. I am extremely passionate about that.

COMMUNITY SHOWCASE ON RAVENSWALK

Today's Community Showcase featured the American Cancer Society. For more information on the organization, please visit:

On Sept. 29, Ravens players including CB Jaire Alexander and OLB Tavarius Robinson participated in the team's Fourth Annual Crucial Catch Day, a day of pampering for 35 women who are currently battling various types of cancer.

CRUCIAL CATCH SUPPORT

The Ravens and the American Cancer Society (ACS) are supporting the fight against all cancers through the "Crucial Catch: Intercept Cancer" campaign.

At today's game, the Ravens are recognizing over 50 PSL owners and fans who have courageously fought and in some cases continue to fight a wide variety of cancers. All fans in attendance will have the opportunity to display a placard with various messages providing hope, support and recognition for those who have beaten cancer, are currently battling or honoring those who've been lost to cancer.

The Ravens also continued to support cancer awareness efforts through the team's annual Crucial Catch Day.

On September 29th, the Ravens surprised 35 women who are currently battling various types of cancer for a day of pampering, self-care and fun. CB Jaire Alexander, OLB Tavarius Robinson and OLB Kaimon Rucker joined the women for their special day. After a tour of M&T Bank Stadium, the attendees were escorted onto the field and into the Ravens locker room where they created their own flower bundle, received a massage, customized a permanent bracelet and had their makeup done.

Additionally, CB Nate Wiggins and his Wiggs Worldwide Foundation purchased brand new wigs for all women in attendance.

IN OUR COMMUNITY

9/14 Through the Seats for Service program sponsored by CSX, the Ravens recognized the family of fallen firefighter and 23-year veteran of Baltimore City Fire Department, Lt. Mark Dranbauer. Ravens Legend Todd Heap was on hand to greet them on the sideline.

9/24 Spearheaded through OLB Odafe Oweh and his foundation, Oweh's Foundation for Opportunity, the Ravens' annual Caw to Action expanded to Lagos, Nigeria. Volunteers engaged children at the Olusosun Primary School through the Arts and Book Buddies program.

10/5 The Ravens recognized David Martinez Monreal and Tatiana Gonzalez through the NFL's Hispanic Heritage award. Nominees are recognized as outstanding high school tackle and flag football athletes as well as for their academic excellence.
